

Nurse Account Manager - Student Screening

As a leader in the field of occupational health, we are committed to providing a dynamic and innovative work environment for our employees. We are seeking a highly skilled and motivated Occupational Health Nurse to clinically lead our student screening programmes and proactively manage our collaboration with our NHS partners. The role will be home-based and client sites in the area, on a full time basis.

About Cordell Health

Cordell Health is a Social Enterprise delivering quality multi-disciplinary occupational health services to support organisations in delivery of workplace health and wellbeing including supporting higher education establishments and in-house NHS occupational health services. We are an Equal Opportunities Employer and a Disability Confident Committed Employer and committed to delivering exceptional services to our clients against SEQOHS standards.

We aspire to provide a dynamic, sustainable, and ethical way of delivering workplace health and wellbeing. Our vision is to change the focus from disability to ability.

We have an exceptional retention rate of clients who value our services. To enable us to meet the service delivery demand of our clients, we have developed a team based approach focusing on employee support, development and training.

Who we are looking for

We're looking for someone who is committed to excellence and dedicated to providing exceptional care to our clients. You should have excellent communication and interpersonal skills and be able to work effectively providing clinical leadership to the student screening team. You will need to be able to work independently and take initiative, with a strong attention to detail and a commitment to ensuring high-quality care is delivered by the team.

You must be a Registered Nurse experienced in delivery of healthcare worker and/or student screening within the healthcare sector. You should have skills, experience or potential to provide clinical leadership to our screening programmes and manage staff in a supportive and effective manner to ensure efficient and high quality delivery of services.

As part of our team, you will have the opportunity to develop our service delivery model within student screening and develop relationships with our NHS partners. You will be supported by a multidisciplinary team of experienced occupational health professionals, who share your passion for delivering health and wellbeing to our clients.

Purpose of the Role

To provide occupational health clinical leadership and high quality service provision of our student screening programmes. Account manage and ensure adequate clinical resource for the contracts with NHS partners. We offer home working in this role with travel to clinic locations and client sites as needed for assurance of service delivery.

Key Responsibilities

In this role, you will be required to:

- To ensure delivery of quality student screening services to Cordell Health policies and procedures in line with HEOPS guidance, DHSC policy and support the wider account management team to develop client relationship processes
- To oversee the account management of Cordell Health's clients within the NHS sector.
- To provide supervision and clinical support with clinical delivery where needed of student screening activities.
- To ensure student screening services meet the requirement of delivery of safe, effective, efficient, economical and ethical clinical services in line with SEQOHS standards.

Benefits

In return for joining our growing team, we offer:

- Excellent training and development opportunities via in-house training, use of external providers and via our sister company EOPH Ltd
- A supportive and inclusive work environment
- Peer and group support meetings
- A competitive salary package
- Pension scheme
- Group income protection
- Travel expenses reimbursement
- 31 days annual leave (pro rata) plus public holidays
- A reduced working week, full-time working is 35 hours per week
- Flexible agile working approach

If you're passionate about occupational health and want to make a real difference in people's lives, we want to hear from you.

We welcome requests for further information and would be happy to have an informal discussion with any potential applicant. To apply for the role please send a CV and cover letter to Tania Sayle, by email: tania.sayle@cordellhealth.co.uk or call 0118 207 6190.
