

Health Management Ltd

Regional Medical Director – London and South East

Health Management is the UK's leading independent occupational health provider, looking after approximately 500 large public sector and private sector clients. We are committed to delivering comprehensive and effective OH services ensuring high professional standards are met consistently and in line with best practice.

We are on an exciting journey here at Health Management and we are looking for an outstanding individual to join us and play a significant role in our future plans. This senior position will have the opportunity to shape how we deliver our services, lead a team of dedicated and enthusiastic OHPs and be part of the Wider Leadership Team of the business.

We believe that professional development is core to all that we do to enable us to give the very best service to our clients. You can therefore expect to be supported in a collegiate working environment with CPD, an annual clinical conference, regular development days and the opportunity to work with a wide client base.

As you would expect with a role of this seniority, there is a competitive salary and associated benefits package to attract the strongest candidates for this role.

This really is a great opportunity for your next big challenge.
