Consultant in Occupational Medicine

Location: Venning Barracks, Donnington

Salary: £76,761 - £103,490 pro rata

Reference Number: J221-A-18-5501 (1605588)

This is an exciting time to join the Ministry of Defence. We have an opportunity for a self-motivated and experienced Consultant in Occupational Medicine, who thrives on a challenge, to join our team at Venning Barracks, Donnington.

Our successful candidate must have a Specialist Medical Registration with the General Medical Council, obtained Certificate of Completion of Training in Occupational Medicine and be on the Specialist Register. Also a current full UK driving licence will be required.

You will take a leading role with a small OH team operating within the DPHC (WWM) Region, usually including one or more occupational health nurses, clerical staff and occasionally trainees.

As the successful candidate you will be providing Defence Primary Health Care (DPHC) medical staff and the Chain of Command with specialist OH advice concerning medical aspects of a Service Person's (SP) employability, deployability and ongoing employment.

You will be expected to maintain professional standards in occupational health as laid down by Headquarters DPHC and the Defence Consultant Adviser in Occupational Medicine as well as professional standards for a consultant in occupation health as recommended by the Faculty of Occupational Medicine (FOM).

Closing date: 27/11/2018
