

Occupational Physician(s) – Full time (& P/T) – London and the home counties

Salary £80 - £110K pa plus benefits and career prospects

Award winning team are looking for qualified OHP's - 1 full time and 1, 2 or 3 part time. Not just any OHPs - we want team players who will join us for the long term, are eager and keen to make a mark, and can see the vision we all share.

If you can answer 'yes' to the following 7 questions, then put pen to paper and apply before 30th April 2018.

1. Are you eager to progress your OH career and grow your skills with a young company with great plans?
2. Would you be happy working for a small but growing private firm with exacting standards of quality and a genuine interest in supporting our clients?
3. We have 1 full time post and then 1 or 2 part time, all based in the south east covering any of our Kent, London or Sussex clinics as well as site visits in the area. You may sometimes have to travel further afield and even overseas. Would you welcome such a challenge?
4. Do you have the 'MFOM', 'AFOM' or DipOccMed qualification?
5. Would you be prepared to undertake more training to enhance your qualifications – for example OGUK, HAVs, Lead, Asbestos, Travel medicine, MCA etc?
6. Are you of a cheerful and pleasant disposition, with flexible attitude and able to fit in with the entire team and roll with the punches?

In addition to a full time career OHP, we also need P/T OHPs to cover Kent and East Sussex 2 days a week – regular locum or perm post. Same qualities needed, but different aspirations.

Send me an email with a CV attached – gill@allhealthmatters.co.uk Your email should tell me something about the 'real you' – your aspirations, your experience and where you see yourself in the next ten years. Tell me about your present position, salary expectations and strengths and weaknesses.

Founded in February 2010, All Health Matters Limited is a family owned, Kent based business which has grown in response to the demand for quality OH medical services in Kent, London and throughout the UK.

Also offering private General Medical services and Travel clinics in Kent and London, the company promotes a whole-person approach to health and wellbeing and works with a team of psychologists and physiotherapists who add value to the service. See www.allhealthmatters.co.uk

The company's approach is simple – very old fashioned in many respects; manners, courtesies, hands-on attention to client needs. Yet the investment in modern medical equipment & IT solutions, monitoring changes in the legal, medical and health & safety arenas, demonstrate an innovative business built on solid foundations.
