About The At Work Partnership

Dedicated to bringing high quality, good value conferences and specialist professional development courses to OH, H&S, and HR professionals, The At Work Partnership researches the subjects that really matter to professionals in your field, and sources speakers who are true subject experts. We ensure that each conference is of the highest quality, and provide you with useful documentation to which you can refer time and time again.

We also publish the journal Occupational Health [at Work] as well as an online service, OH Law Online, and we produce two free OH email newsletters, one focusing on OH law, and the other on general OH news. Visit www.atworkpartnership.co.uk to get your copies and find out more.

Preview 2019: OH legal & professional update

Are you prepared for 2019? Do you know the legal and professional developments that will be affecting your work in occupational health over the next 12 months?

This 15th annual 'Preview' conference from The At Work Partnership provides you with an update on crucial developments in OH law and professional practice, including the implications of Brexit for OH law, how to comply with the new FOM guidance on ethical practice; and all of the latest hot legal cases in the areas of disability discrimination, stress, harassment and mental health. A handpicked panel of experts will take delegates through some of the most complex and important developments, providing no-nonsense explanations of how they will affect OH professionals, employers and employees. Our interactive legal surgeries will ensure that you have plenty of opportunity to get all your questions answered.

Preview 2019: OH Legal and Professional Update is one of our most popular annual events, attracting delegates from the UK and overseas who wish to keep up to date with all of the most recent changes in OH law and practice..

Recent delegates at this event said:

"An excellent relevant conference that all OHPs should attend."

Dr Shirley Kong, OH Physician, RS Occupational Health

"As always, an 'update day', not to be missed – always informative – always unmissable."

Trudy Mapstone, Medical Services Manager,
Chessington World of Adventures

"Enjoyable, would attend again. In addition to content, good atmosphere and opportunities to network."

Dr John Harrison, Chief Medical Director, PCC Devon & Cornwall

How will attending this training day benefit you?

You will gain:

- An up-to-the-minute analysis of the implications of the new FOM ethics guidance and of Brexit on OH law
- A vital update on legislation and recent case law taking you through the complexities of informed consent, disability discrimination, stress, mental health, harassment and other hot topics – you'll be sure you know your obligations, and how to meet them
- Knowledge of the legal dos and don'ts in some of the most difficult areas affecting OH professionals' practice
- An update on key professional practice issues, focusing on professional competence
- The opportunity to learn how to measure the impact of workplace wellbeing - and to how to avoid the pitfalls
- A chance to network with speakers and other delegates

This event is designed for:

- OH professionals and allied health professionals
- HR managers
- H&S practitioners
- Case managers

If you can only attend one conference this season, make sure you're prepared for 2019 and come to this essential day!

About our expert speakers

Dr John Ballard: John has been researching and writing on OH and disability issues for over 20 years. He edits Occupational Health [at Work] and jointly edited Discrimination Law and OH Practice (The At Work Partnership, 2012) with Diana Kloss. He is an honorary fellow of the Faculty of Occupational Medicine (FOM), and an honorary senior lecturer at the University of Birmingham's IOEM.

Dr Steve Boorman CBE: Steve is director of employee health at Empactis. He is the former chief medical officer at the Royal Mail (21 years) and has managed four national OH services. He led the NHS Health and Wellbeing Review – the Boorman Review – and is now on the NHS Improvement HWB Advisory Board. He chairs the Council for Work and Health and the FOM's ethics committee.

Nick Hanning: Nick is a specialist personal injury and employment lawyer with Anthony Gold Solicitors. Specialising in psychiatric injury claims, he acted for the claimant in the seminal case of Majrowski v Guy's and St Thomas' NHS Trust, and in a separate case resulting in an employment tribunal award of £4.5 million. He is past president of the Chartered Institute of Legal Executives.

Dr Ali Hashtroudi: Ali is the head of the National School of Occupational Health, and is the clinical director of occupational health services at Guy's and St Thomas' NHS Trust in London and his main area of clinical work is healthcare and higher education with extensive experience in other sectors. He is a health examiner for the GMC and is chair of Higher Education Occupational Health Practitioners.

Mandy Murphy: Mandy is the deputy head of the National School of Occupational Health and leads on multi-professional education in OH. A nurse with 20 years' experience of managing OH services, Mandy is a board director for the Council for Work and Health and a member of DWP OH expert group. She also runs her own coaching and consulting business.

Prof Diana Kloss MBE: Diana is a barrister, former employment judge and honorary senior lecturer in OH law at the University of Manchester. Her publications include Occupational Health Law (Wiley Blackwell), and she is consultant editor of The At Work Partnership's OH Law Online. Diana is an honorary fellow of the FOM, an ACAS arbitrator, and is honorary president of the Council for Work and Health.

Rebecca Tuck: Rebecca is a barrister at Old Square Chambers specialising in employment and discrimination law. She is chair of the Industrial Law Society, a fee-paid employment judge, a legal assessor for the NMC, and editor of Harvey on Industrial Relations and Employment Law. Rebecca is instructed by a wide range of clients in all aspects of employment law and discrimination.

Michael Whitmore: Michael is a research leader at RAND Europe, primarily developing initiatives and research into health and work wellbeing. A career spanning 25 years across health and social care, his roles have included programme director within UK cross-government Health and Work, international wellbeing director for Optum, part of UnitedHealth, and programme lead developing a national mental health wellbeing programme to the UK construction industry.
