

We are looking for...

A BOLD NEW CHIEF MEDICAL OFFICER!

Medigold Health is looking for a visionary Chief Medical Officer (CMO) to steer our clinical team and innovate our practices. As we continue to build the UK's most relevant and forward-thinking workplace health and employee wellbeing business, we need a dynamic CMO at the clinical helm.

So, if you are:

- An experienced Consultant Occupational Health Physician with a proven track record of outstanding clinical leadership
- Passionate about innovation

Then you're the leader we need to propel our dynamic and ever-expanding business forward!

What you'll get up to

Fuelled by your understanding of the evolving labour landscape and your enthusiasm for pioneering new solutions, you will inspire and guide our clinicians as they work to advance our mission to keep more people in work, safe and well. Simultaneously, you will safeguard our clinical governance and uphold our reputation for quality and clinical excellence.

You will also support our Board's strategic vision, aiming for excellence in our ambitious goals. Furthermore, you'll boost our industry presence by engaging with key bodies within OH and the wider business landscape.

Who you are

You will have:

- Demonstrable clinical leadership and management experience across a range of sectors.
- Minimum of MFOM qualification and proven experience within the commercial occupational health industry.

- A progressive attitude that embraces technological advancements and an understanding that clinical delivery and operating models must continually evolve and change to thrive.
- A desire to challenge industry norms and traditional constructs.
- A determination to break new ground and try new things.
- Experience in developing and implementing robust clinical processes.
- A passion for developing people and nurturing clinical talent.
- An ability to robustly manage upwards and sideways, as well as downwards, with compassion and a sense of humour.
- Grit, tenacity and an ability to demonstrate courage and resilience, and inspire this in others, in the face of challenges.

Think you are the perfect fit? Drop our Chief People Officer, Katie Wery, an email at Katie.Wery@medigold-health.com to arrange an informal chat about the opportunity and next steps.

You can also view the full job description via the following link:

<https://careers.medigold-health.com/jobs/4100661-chief-medical-officer-cmo>

About Medigold Health

Medigold have been helping businesses to keep their people in work, safe and well for over 25 years, and we're one of the UK's most trusted workplace health providers.

We help over 3,500 customers look after 4.5 million employees by delivering services including absence management, employee screening, private GP services, workplace adjustments, drug and alcohol testing and mental health and neurodiversity training.

But we are more than just a workplace health provider; we are pioneers in our field. Our unwavering commitment to tech innovation and nurturing future talent in OH sets us apart. By offering advanced training, peer support and professional development, we aim to set the standard for clinical excellence and be the employer of choice in the OH industry.