

Head of occupational Health

Want to do the best work of your life? With 24 million customers in 6 countries, make your mark at Europe's leading media and entertainment brand. A workplace where you can proudly be yourself; our people make Sky a truly exciting and inclusive place to work.

Sky Occupational Health are responsible for the delivery of a clinical service and provision of expert medical advice and guidance and support to our 26,000 employees, managers and leaders in the UK and Ireland.

Based in Osterley and Livingston, we work closely with all areas of the business including Sky News and Sky Sports to deliver a clinical occupational health service tailored to match the diverse needs of the people at Sky. We need an occupational health physician to lead our team.

The Head of Group Occupational Health leads the Sky occupational health team. The key focus of the role is ensuring delivery of the clinical service and providing specialist medical advice to all.

What you'll do:

- Lead the Sky Occupational health team and manager of the clinicians and Operational Delivery Manager.
- Bring knowledge of ways of working in Occupational Health and relevant legislation, to lead the future evolution of the occupational health service.
- Provision of specialist medical advice to all business areas and teams, including collaborating closely with our outsourced partners to acquire specialised advice. This includes advice for Sky News, Sky Productions, and Sky Sports.
- Manage the outsourced suppliers delivering the additional services to Sky.

- Work closely with other HR teams, and wider including but not limited to Group Resilience, Health and Safety, legal, insurance, data protection, and audit risk management teams.

What you'll bring:

- Be a GMC registered medical practitioner.
- Qualification in Occupational Medicine (MFOM, AFOM).
- Ability to take full responsibility for the delivery of the full range of occupational health services at Sky.
- Deliver complex case management and specialist medical advice to the business.
- Knowledge of the specific legislation and its application required to deliver the role.
- Be able to build and maintain effective stakeholder relationships.
- Some experience of delivering occupational health clinics.

How you'll work:

We know the world has changed, and we want to offer our employees the chance to collaborate at our unique office spaces, whilst enjoying the convenience of working from home.

We've adopted a hybrid working approach to give more flexibility on where and how we work. You'll find out more about what this means for this role during the recruitment process.

Your office base:

Osterley or Livingston

Osterley

Our Osterley Campus is a 10-minute walk from Syon Lane train station. Or you can hop on one of our free shuttle buses that run to and from Osterley, Gunnersbury, Ealing Broadway and South Ealing tube stations. There's also plenty of bike shelters and showers.

On campus, you'll find 13 subsidised restaurants, cafes, and a Waitrose! You can keep in shape at our subsidised gym, catch the latest shows and movies at our cinema, get your car washed and even get pampered at our beauty salon!

Livingston Watermark House

Our lively campus is a free shuttle bus away from Livingston South train station and the town centre. Plus there's onsite parking available for cars, motorbikes and bicycles.

You'll be well fed at our subsidised canteen, and you can keep in shape at our onsite gym. Or play a game of pool or table tennis!

Inclusion:

We take pride in our approach to diversity and inclusion. We've been recognised by The Times and Stonewall for this, and we've committed £30million to support the fight against racial injustice. We've also set ambitious targets for increasing ethnic diversity and representation throughout our organisation.

At Sky we don't just look at your CV. We're more passionate about who you are and your potential. We also know that everyone has a life outside work, so we're happy to discuss flexible working.

And we'll do everything we can to support you during your application. If you need us to make any adjustments to our recruitment process, speak to our recruitment team who will be happy to support you.

Why wait?

Apply now to build an amazing career and be part of a brilliant team. We can't wait to hear from you.
